Conditions upon which an endowment of a Professorship of Chinese was accepted by Convocation on 5 December 1879

Whereas James Macandrew, William Walkinshaw, Alfred Howell, and James Banks Taylor, Esquires, Trustees of a sum of £3,003 which has been subscribed by persons interested in promoting the study of Chinese, have offered forthwith to invest the same in £3 per cent Government annuities in the name of the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford, upon the following terms and conditions.

1. The said sum of £3,003, and the stocks, funds, and securities in or upon which the same shall for the time being be invested, shall be regarded as a capital fund specifically appropriated towards the endowment of a Professorship of the Chinese Language and Literature in the University of Oxford.

2. The dividends on the said capital fund, and on any additions which may hereafter be made thereto, shall be paid to the person who, whether under the provisions of any existing statute of the University in that behalf or of any statute or decree to be made hereafter, shall hold for the time being the office of Professor of the Chinese Language and Literature in the University.

3. If, on any vacancy occurring in the office of such professor, it shall seem expedient to Council that the appointment of a new professor should be suspended, the dividends accruing during the period for which such appointment shall be suspended shall be invested in augmentation of the capital fund.
